An induction cooktop works by using magnetic energy to heat the pot or pan, put simply – the pot is the element. The latest technology of zoneless induction cooking allows you to place pots and pans of various sizes anywhere within the zones and the cooktop will automatically recognise the pot. This Energy Saving 900mm Series 6 zoneless induction cooktop, features a flexible cooking area consisting of two independent inductors with separate touch control sliders, energy saving Eco mode and Quick Menus to take the thinking out of it.

A sophisticated sleek powerful 900mm cooktop...
